

CLAIM SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY TO BAR PEACE MOVES

MUSSOLINI HAS ORDERED CHECK UP AT GENEVA

Il Duce May Withdraw One Division From Libya

By John Evans.
Rome, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini, it was reported today, has ordered a check-up on the League of Nations sanctions against Italy, but has not yet decided whether to withdraw one division from Libya.

Il Duce's asserted attitude was disclosed as new hope for peace in Europe and in Africa arose from authoritative Italian quarters.

Withdrawal of one division of Italian troops from the African colony of Libya, it was officially indicated, was likely, and a government spokesman expressed optimism over "confirmed reports" that Great Britain contemplates withdrawal of four big warships from the Mediterranean.

In official quarters, where reference was made to Italy's willingness to talk about the Ethiopia dispute, it was stated that "so long as the sanction machine works at Geneva" direct negotiations between the three powers would be "difficult."

The statement indicated, an informed source said, that Premier Mussolini wishes diplomats at Geneva to check the drive for sanctions against Italy before peace negotiations begin.

Meanwhile, a government spokesman said that if reports of probable British withdrawal of warships from the Mediterranean are true, it is entirely possible that Italian forces would be reduced in Libya.

"One division," he asserted, possibly would be called home from that northern African colony on the western border of Egypt.

In London, where a similar offer for the withdrawal of a single division from Libya was reported today, the British government, informed observers expressed the belief two great battle cruisers, the Hood and the Renown, might be recalled soon from the southern sea.

Despite the apparent trend toward peace in the various straits of Mediterranean, the Italian spokesman warned that the best feeling of optimism must not be interpreted as based on any conclusive diplomatic agreement.

Conversations between British and Italian statesmen, "so far have merely been expressions of points of view," he declared.

Hundreds Killed By Huge Explosion

Shanghai, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A vast store of explosives collected to resist a Red invasion blew up in Lanchow, Kansu province, Sunday, dispatches disclosed today. Hundreds were believed killed.

"The Reds could have not equalled the damage in months of fighting," said a witness.

The explosion was felt for miles. It shook the city like an earthquake, scattering masonry, broken glass and other debris over the streets.

Marital law was proclaimed and no one was permitted on the scene of the disaster. This prevented an accurate estimate of casualties.

Most of the colony of American and British missionaries in Lanchow had fled the city Oct. 8 before the expected invasion of the Communists.

KILLS WOLF
Frankfort, Kas., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Farmer Otis Shope doesn't have to worry about keeping the wolf from his door. He shot it.

Disturbed by a noise in his backyard, Shope looked out. There almost at the doorstep were two large timber wolves that had boldly chased his dogs under the porch. Shope shot one. The other fled before he could reload.

Bookkeeper's Will Fixes Amount to be Spent on Funeral

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—In melancholy detail, the will of Robert Nixon Foster today fixed to a penny the amount to be expended for his funeral and upkeep of his grave.

From his estate of $900, Foster willed $300 for a casket, $100 for a cement vault, $100 for a headstone, $50 for embalming and $50 for a hearse to the cemetery in Aurora, Ill., where he will be buried.

The residue of his estate will be invested for upkeep of the grave, above which a mound of earth must rise "eight inches." Foster provided the grave was to be covered with $2 worth of Kentucky blue grass, with "no clover."

Funeral decorations, the will provides, shall be on seventy-five cent drapery and four deep red, "not white," graminis to be purchased for $1.

The will also authorized the purchase of four petunias for twenty-five cents.

Foster, a retired bookkeeper, died Oct. 5 at the age of 75.

SELASSIE'S MEN ARE PREPARING FOR BIG BATTLE

Warriors Are Massing In Mountain Passes Reports State

By The Associated Press.
Addis Ababa, Oct. 23.—Ethiopian warriors are massing in the mountain passes that lie between the Ogaden desert and the dark empire, only a railroad for a desperate stand against the army of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani, one of Emperor Haile Selassie's principal warlords reported today.

Dejazmach Nambusa, governor of fertile Harar province in the south-east, arrived at Dire Dawa, on the railway, with the news of the mountain concentration. It came from Djibouti, east of the city of Harar.

A Reuters dispatch said a heavy engagement was reported underway on the southern front between the forces of Ras Desta Denit, Selassie's son-in-law, and Italian troops on the right wing of the Webbe Shubeli River front.

Ras Desta's troops, 200,000 strong, previously were reported marching down the Webbe Shubeli valley to meet the advancing Italian army.

Dispatches on Monday from both Rome and Mogadiscio, Italian Somali-land, told of the bombardment and seizure of the Ethiopian fortress of Dagnaberi by native units of Graziani's army, with losses on both sides. Subsequent and unconfirmed reports said the Italian forces had captured Gide, northeast of Dagnaberi.

In the capital Selassie consulted his people and soothsayers, and on the advice of the mystic, decided not to go north to the Dessye front until after November 2, the anniversary of his coronation.

Even might befall Ethiopia, the soothsayer said, if the Nexus should go to the front prematurely, but success rarely would follow if he waited until after the coronation ceremony.

A Macabre incident in the vicinity of Addis Ababa was reported today as thousands of fresh warriors departed for the northern front.

Four Ethiopian women, bringing food to their husbands in the field, were devoured by a pack of hyenas which infest the capital environs.

Wage Increases Given Workers

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Wage increases for approximately 6,000 employees and an unemployment benefit plan for 1936 were announced today by H. W. Prentiss, Jr., president of the Armstrong Cork company.

Hourly wages to workers in domestic factories and branch warehouses will be increased by 5 per cent Nov. 3, and on Dec. 24 5 per cent of each employee's 1935 compensation.

The company declined to make public the total of the additional wage and salary payments.

With the increase, Prentiss said, the minimum rate for men will be 46 cents an hour, which is 15 per cent above the 1929 minimum, and women will receive a minimum of 33 cents an hour, 15 per cent higher than the 1929 minimum and 10.5 per cent over the 1929 average hourly rate.

BOOKS PASSAGE
London, Oct. 23.—(AP)—James J. Walker, former mayor of New York City, has booked passage in the United States liner Manhattan sailing for America tomorrow. It was learned from a reliable source today.

ADMIRAL FAVORS POWERFUL NAVY FOR UNCLE SAM

Assails 'Radicals' Who Are Opposing Naval Building

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Admiral William H. Standley asserted today that a powerful navy is the best insurance against war and assailed "radicals" for attempting to torpedo the naval building program.

His remarks were given added significance when Secretary Swanson reiterated that he would recommend Standley, chief of naval operations, as America's naval spokesman if a projected London naval conference is held.

Standley told the Washington Rotary club:

"I am firmly convinced that national security depends on building, equipping, manning and maintaining an adequate navy. A treaty strength navy is an adequate navy, x x x navy is expensive. But so is any insurance."

The state department considerably was represented as still awaiting a "feeler" from London as to whether December 2 would be acceptable for starting new naval conversations with Britain, Japan, Italy and France.

London advised that invitations to the navy were being held up until the naval powers could be sounded out on the date.

A hint that the navy may insist in London on maintaining the present 5-5-3 naval ratio with Britain and Japan was dropped by Swanson.

"I think personally the 5-5-3 ratio is right," the secretary said, "x x x and favor adhering to this proposition."

He added, too, an opinion that the proposed conference should not touch on economic problems.

Standley told the Rotarians in sharp, crisp words that the strength of "radical elements" fighting the naval program "constitutes the greatest menace to our national security."

The aim of these influences, he said, is the prevention of war but the destruction of organized government.

He contended they were working through the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., churches and public and private schools.

The admiral appealed to Rotarians to unite with other service clubs in combating the subversive influences "undermining Americanism and certainly jeopardizing our national security."

"Whenever adherents of these radical elements appear to oppose preparedness," he said, "there also must appear spokesmen for sound, adequate national defense."

For thirteen years, he said, the radicals successfully fought all attempts to build the navy to treaty power and will continue to fight the building program now that it is under way.

New Streamlined Train Sets Mark 122 Miles Hour

Railroad Officials Claim Speed Was Maintained For Five Miles

By Ed Yinger.
Oxford, Neb., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The new "Mark Twain" streamlined train hurried to what Burlington railroad officials claimed was a new railroad speed record of 122 miles per hour near here today.

The fourth of the Burlington's Diesel-powered Zephyrs hit top speed on a route where the Republican River flooded last June took a toll of more than 100 lives and $1,000,000 in property damage. The Burlington designed the speed test to demonstrate the rebuilding of its main Denver-Chicago line tracks, which paralleled the river.

Andy Kelly of Chicago, Burlington publicity representative, said a record would be claimed for the dash, although the Pennsylvania railroad claims a record of 127.1 miles per hour by its Broadway limited near Ada, O., June 12, 1935.

Today's speed was measured by the train's speedometer and was maintained for four or five miles, although no official announcement was made of the distance. The dash started slowly at McCook and ended at Oxford.

At Arapahoe, about 30 miles from McCook, the Mark Twain was chipping off 100 miles per hour. At Oxford, about 10 miles further, the pace was 119. In about another half-mile the 122 top was reached. The distance from McCook to Oxford is 53.8 miles and Burlington officials said the top speed was made on a down-grade of only one-fourth of one per cent.

Jack Ford, special engineer of the various Zephyr trains, was at the throttle.

BAN DRINKING
Columbia, Mo., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The University of Missouri wants its football followers to be drunk with victory—but nothing else.

President Frederick A. Middlebury announced today that persons under the influence of liquor will not be admitted to the stadium and those drinking openly at games will be ejected.

Willie (Smoky) Saunders Who Rode Derby Winner is Held on Charge of Murder

Held For Murder

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Willie (Smoky) Saunders, the dapper little man who rode to fame in the saddle of the Kentucky Derby winner here last spring, was arraigned today on a charge of murder in the after-the-party death of his gay companion, Mrs. Evelyn Silivinski.

Saunders' bond was fixed at $5,000 by Judge Luther Roberts of county court and his examining trial set for October 31.

After county police formally charged the top-flight jockey with murder, Walter Schaeffer, a race track employee, named by Saunders as the driver of the automobile that crashed to death the 23-year-old married woman, was picked up near the Pimlico race track by Baltimore police at the request of Louisville officers.

The mangled body of Mrs. Silivinski was found on the Ohio river road near here early Sunday. Mrs. Agatha Mackison, 28, the victim's girl companion on the round of Louisville's "hot spots," told police Mrs. Silivinski was beaten, thrown from an automobile and run over twice.

Mrs. Mackison was brought to county police headquarters late today for further questioning. Her brother, James Detelle, accompanied her.

Mrs. Mackison burst into tears when she was led into the room where Saunders was awaiting efforts to make his bail. Still sobbing she was taken to city headquarters for questioning.

"Come on, kid, don't break down now, kid," said her brother, as they left arm in arm. "Take it easy, kid. You'll be all right; don't cry."

A few minutes later Saunders made bond and was freed from custody.

Sought by police after Mrs. Mackison had identified him from a picture as a member of the party, Saunders came here today from Lexington, Ky., and surrendered. Denying he was to blame for the woman's death, Saunders admitted to detectives he was with Mrs. Silivinski on her last ride. Stupid and comical, the jockey related that Mrs. Silivinski became ill and asked to get out. He said he opened the door for her let her out and the car drove on.

"She got out because she wanted to," he added. He said the young woman was drunk, but when asked if he or Schaeffer was drunk he replied, "No. I was all right and the boy who was driving was all right, too."

Saunders said the driver later turned around and came back. He said he had no personal knowledge of the car striking the woman, but inferred from Schaeffer's remarks the car had hit her coming back. He said he had a feeling that the car had bumped something, but as he was in the back seat he didn't know what it was.

Asked by detectives why he didn't report it to police as a hit-run accident, Saunders was instructed by his attorney, W. S. Heidenberg, not to answer. Saunders said he had no recollection that Mrs. Mackison screamed at the time of the "bump" and he denied hearing a threat to Mrs. Mackison when she was left at her home. "Don't say a word. You don't know anything. You're lucky to be alive."

AAA CRITICISM ANSWERED BY U. S. BAKERS

Declare Taxes Five Times Higher Than Profits

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Bakers of the nation answered the agricultural adjustment administration criticism of rising bread prices today with the assertion that the taxes they pay are five times as great as their net profits.

Figured on the basis of 100,000 loaves of bread sold at an average of 8.3 cents, the bakers' income is $175 and his taxes $906.79, the American Bakers Association was told by its counsel, William A. Quinlan.

The figures were advanced in support of President Henry Stude's claim that AAA taxes are responsible for bread price increases.

The tax-income comparison was the bakers' final salvo in a word war carried on for the last week between the association and AAA officials in Washington.

On the list of taxes Quinlan cited in the make-up of bread costs were levies on flour, flour sacks, sugar, land, railroads, fuel, light and power, sales, gasoline, tires, automobile parts, office supplies, income, capital stock and local tax items.

Of $8,300 paid out for 100,000 loaves of 8.3 cent bread, he said the dealer kept $1,300, on which he paid $39 tax. Of the remaining $7,000 the bakers costs—including ingredients, wages, fuel, maintenance and depreciation, cooling, slicing and wrapping, advertising and selling, vehicle operation and office operation and taxes—totalled $5,825.00.

Lakefront Park Is Visioned As Empire

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Sponsors of the permanent Lakefront Exposition, which has received a $4,455,777 federal grant, today predicted it might make Chicago the capital of an industrial and agricultural empire.

Walter L. Gregory, president of the Chicago Exposition authority, revealed plans for a $20,000,000 "Trade Fair" designed to give central and midwestern states a central place to exhibit their products.

"In addition to recreational features we add culture and educational attractions, and provide a great market place, we have an empire of our own," Gregory said.

More than 5,000 men will be put to work at once on landscaping and underground pipe work for the Exposition, which will be located on the site of a Century of Progress on Northernly Island in Burnham Park.

EMPIRE ROBBED

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—(AP)—E. C. Quigley, veteran National League umpire, called himself "out" today—out $600 worth of clothing and luggage.

Quigley, who always brings prize pigs from his St. Mary's, Kas., farm to the American royal livestock and horse show, was the victim of a thief who broke into his car while he was attending the show.

BEGIN SANCTIONS

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Yugoslav government will begin economic sanctions against Italy at midnight, an official communique announced today. The decree also forbids shipments to Italy now in transit.

GREAT BRITAIN RULES SEA BUT ITALY HAS ARMY

British Propose To Strengthen Their Forces

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Britannia apparently still rules the waves but her land forces are outnumbered five to one by Italy's fighting machine.

As the British government proposed today to strengthen its defensive forces "in the interest of world peace," the latest comparative figures available here showed.

On June 30, 1934, Mussolini had an active army of 433,625; trained reserves of 5,285,000, and an air force, including reserves, of 165,545 men, or a total of 6,494,170.

On the same date, the British empire had 471,692 men under arms, 763,650 in trained reserves, and an air force of 47,617 for a total of only 1,282,959.

Since then, the Italian army has increased in size, but the increase presumably resulted in a decrease in the number of trained reserves.

On the sea, however, Great Britain is superior to Italy in every ship category except submarines, on the basis of figures compiled September 23.

And some capital observers are convinced in the event of strife between the two nations—which seemed increasingly remote after Sir Samuel Hoare's appeal for peace yesterday—that the outcome would be determined by ships and airplanes, rather than by soldiers.

The only fighting on land, in the opinion of these experts, would be confined to colonial campaigns, principally in Africa, where Italian Libya adjoins Egypt and Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and British and Italian Somaliland nestle together.

The hypothetical naval engagement presumably would take place in the Mediterranean where Great Britain has concentrated the bulk of its fleet. And whatever emerged victorious, these observers contend, would control the all-important question in modern warfare of "logistics" or the movement of supplies.

At sea, the British empire has 15 capital ships against Italy's four; six aircraft carriers against none for Italy; 19 class "A" cruisers against 11; 25 class "B" cruisers against 16; 102 destroyers against 88, but only 57 submarines against 60.

Great Britain is constructing or has made appropriations for one aircraft carrier, 13 class "B" cruisers, 27 destroyers and nine submarines, while Italy is building two capital ships, three class "B" cruisers, 10 destroyers and 18 submarines.

The air strength of the two nations has been kept secret, but the best general information is that they are about on a par in this respect.

Scores Attend Funeral Rites For Cartoonist

Minister Departs From His Regular Service To Deliver Warning

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Friends of Sidney Smith, prominent newspaper cartoonist, and scores of people who knew him through his comic strip, "The Gumps," filed the Fourth Presbyterian church for his funeral services today.

Smith, who was 58, died in an automobile accident near Harvard, Ill., last Sunday.

Departing from the formal funeral service of his church, the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson chose the occasion to deliver a solemn warning against reckless driving. Standing above Smith's rose-blanketed casket, he said:

"Today human lives are held so lightly that they are squandered, ruthlessly wasted by reckless driving. Back of this attitude is the lost concept of the sacredness of human life."

So today, in the name of God, whose minister I am, and in the name of broken humanity, I speak out. I bring you no statistics. They are too cheap in this day of murder and madness."

Governor Henry Horner and former Governor Emmerson were among the dignitaries who attended the funeral. Outside the church stood a group of Smith's unknown admirers. Burial was in Rosehill cemetery.

STILL YAWNING

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. P. E. Wakelin, Victoria, has been yawning six weeks—even when she is sleeping.

KEEP IT QUIET

Woodfield, O., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Seven-year old Ralph McCurdy climbed into his father's parked car, tried anything moveable, . . . touched the starter . . .

When the car finally stopped in a neighboring vacant lot, behind it lay four broken posts, two torn wire fences and a crumpled grape arbor. Shouted Ralph to a startled neighbor: "Don't you tell anyone!"

FOREST FIRE IS SWEEPING THRU SO. CALIFORNIA

Townsend Spurs Plan at Parley

Future activities of the Townsend plan organization will be outlined at its first national convention in Chicago, at which the plan originator, Dr. F. E. Townsend, above, will be the leading spirit. National and congressional campaigns of 1936 will be decided at the parley.

Disciples of Dr. Townsend hope they will glide through old age on government pensions of $200 a month—gathered today for one of the most unusual rallies in Chicago's history.

Gray-haired legions came into the city by bus and train, in creaking cars and polished automobiles to attend the evening sessions of the first national convention of Townsend clubs tomorrow.

Their principal objective was the perfecting of strategy to persuade the next congress to adopt their proposal of a $200 a month grant to all persons 60 and beyond. Failing that, they hoped to mobilize sufficient strength in the 1936 elections to pack the senate and house with supporters of the project.

Dr. Townsend, the Long Beach, Calif., physician who conceived the idea 18 months ago, made this flat prediction:

"We will elect the congress of the United States next year and the chief executive must do our bidding."

The rank and file shared his confidence.

Claiming the sympathy of "millions" within and without his organization, the doctor said they would marshal their forces by congressional districts.

"It can safely predict," he said, "that next year our plan will supplant the government's social security legislation."

At Santa Catalina Island, 27 miles west of Los Angeles harbor, was held the high winds from 2 p. m. until noon today. United States navy shore boats remained on duty. Officers and men on shore leave had to spend the night at beach cities.

Couple Married On Roadside To Make It Legal

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The No. 11, which was wedding ceremony Saturday was nullified by county boundary line, said their vow again today on a roadside near Dixon and that made it legal.

Bearing a license issued in Dixon by the Lee county clerk, Miller and the former Luella Hinrichsen went to Rockford Saturday and were united in wedlock by the Rev. R. N. Joseph, but after they had returned to their home in Clinton, Ill., Lee county authorities discovered the marriage was invalid because the ceremony was performed in another (Winnebago county).

So wearing the same clothes the original cast returned to Dixon today to make everything legal. Hoping to evade attention, the party proceeded on the Lincoln highway, a mile and one-half from the city and there the Rev. M. R. Joseph tied the knot.

The clergyman had volunteered to do so, explaining that, having come recently from Maine, he was unfamiliar with the Illinois law requiring marriage ceremonies be performed in the same county issuing the license.

In the Sylvan setting of the roadside, the nuptials were reenacted, with the Millers repeating the same vows and the same attendants vouching for them.

Then, married twice within a week, they started for Sterling, Ill., where another wedding dinner was scheduled. After that they were to return to Clinton to celebrate, they said with "a big party."

Art Flegenheimer, Three Companions Shot And Wounded

Newark N. J., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Flegenheimer, colorful New York beer baron during the prohibition era, and two of his henchmen were shot down by two unknown assailants in a Park street chophouse tonight.

Schultz was critically wounded. Art Flegenheimer, 40, said he did not expect him to live. He was rushed to the operating room in an emergency operation at 11:30 P. M. shortly after lapsing into unconsciousness.

Police said his companions were Otto Berman, 46, formerly of the Hotel President, New York City, and Bernard Rosenkratz, 36, New York City.

Without warning apparently occurred the shooting and the gunmen, who fled through a back door of the restaurant at 12 East Park street, presumably escaped in an automobile.

Another man, Leo Frank, 40, of 642 Central avenue, Newark described by police as a by-stander, also was wounded.

Witnesses told police the gunmen fired at least a score of shots in the near-empty tavern.

SISSLE OF STEAM MUSIC TO CLERKS

Heat is Turned On at Post Office Tuesday

The sizzle of steam in the radiators was heard Tuesday at the Jacksonville post office for the first time since last winter. Postal clerks, who have been blowing on their hands to keep warm while the building was unheated, spent a more comfortable morning. Building of the new addition and remodeling work has made heating impossible up to this stage of construction. For several weeks the post office employees have had a chilly existence. Coal oil stoves were placed around the work rooms, but failed to provide adequate warmth.

Construction work at the post office is progressing rapidly. In the meantime, the employees are working in cramped quarters and looking forward to the time when they will move into the spacious new addition.

Whole Men Are Few On I. C. Grid Squad

Boys Work On New Stunts As They Recover From Bumps And Bruises

It may sound like a bear story, but it isn't a full-fledged bear yarn—just one of the cublet variety—but there are very few whole men on the Illinois College football squad, just at present. If Coach Ray Nussnickel could cut out a few of them in half and paste the undamaged sides together, he might be able to assemble a squad that wouldn't have more than the customary black and blue marks.

The fact that the squad is pretty badly bruised up has checked scrimmaging this week. Nussnickel has been teaching the boys some new gridiron tricks to keep their legs in condition while the remainder of their bodies mend.

None of the injuries will be serious enough to keep the boys out of the game with Carthage Saturday, up in Hancock county, but the injuries may be such that the team will not put up its best performance. Two fullbacks, neither of them in the best of shape, have been groomed to fill Nick Watts' shoes while Watts recovers from the shock of suddenly himself ineligible.

They are Ed Hansen and Bill Clem, both of them fast and both able to carry on the duties Watts has performed. However, they both have damaged shoulders. Two halfbacks, Sammy Mangieri and Al Lambardo are in the pink, but Ray Smith has been appearing behind an iron mask because of a damaged lip, and Russ Spuch has been in good shape since the trip to Michigan. Both quarterbacks, Tony Donat and Kenneth Mann, have slight sprains that hinder their performance.

Linebackers, with the exception of Vernon Ford and Lorenz, are in fine fettle. Ford probably will get a chance to play, but he damaged an eyebrow the other night in the same place that it was damaged before, and the cure is expected to take longer this time. Lorenz has been nursing a game leg for some time and probably won't get into the Carthage game for more than a few minutes, unless one of the regular ends is forced off the field. Munger, Davis, Kurtz and Ferguson have been too tough to get hurt as yet, although Munger had a little trouble with his shoes last week.

Further depleting the ranks is the call for freshmen and upper-classmen on the varsity squad for the team that will go to Hannibal-LaGrange college Saturday. Van Meter has about 14 men for this squad at present, and probably will not be able to round up many more.

Tigers Grow As Homecoming Nears

Indiana Team Has Won Four And Lost Two; Rout Works Defense

There has been a feeling that the Illinois School for the Deaf boys have been trying to win football games, but that they have been coasting through their preliminary efforts. If that feeling still exists, it might as well be kicked over the side of the boat, because the Tigers smell a new kind of meat this week-end when they entertain Indiana School for the Deaf here Saturday afternoon in their homecoming game.

Indiana, the Tigers have learned, have won four games and lost two at this stage of the season. There is another fact that is causing the Tigers to brush up the fine points of their game this week, and that is that they do not like to get beat by another deaf team.

It's a pretty well known fact that when two deaf teams get across a scrimmage line from each other, there is going to be plenty of action. The Silent Hoosiers, as results of their victories over Southport, Morocco and the Boys Trade school of Indianapolis, on the record appears to have what it takes to bring out the best in the Tigers.

Coach Burns dished up a bit of scrimmage for his Tigers yesterday, found all of the regulars in fine shape after it was all over, and then settled back to do the taping off drills. There are four games on the Tiger schedule yet, and plenty of time to make a good record.

The starting time for the homecoming game has been set for three o'clock, following by half an hour the starting time of the game between Routt and Edwardsville on the Illinois College field.

Edwardsville, according to Coach LaRue Van Meter of Illinois College, whose former assistant, Steve Kole, is coaching at Edwardsville now, is light this year. However, Routt has a lighter team than usual and therefore the two eleven probably will be pretty evenly matched.

Skoronski is Ruled Off Purdue Eleven

Played Three Minutes with Georgetown University Back in 1931

Lafayette, Ind.—(AP)—Because a "scorn" named Ed Skoronski played a few minutes of football for Georgetown University in 1931, Purdue University's undefeated 1935 eleven faces the rest of its schedule without the services of its captain and center. Skoronski, 6 foot 3 inch, 210-pound Chicago boy in his third season as pivot of the ballmaker forward wall, was declared ineligible for further competition under the western conference three year rule by the faculty athletic committee last night.

Will Take Corn-Hog Referendum in This County on Saturday

Farmers Throughout Nation to Cast Ballots; To Set Up Polls in Precincts

Washington.—(AP)—Declaring that the main purpose of a corn-hog program in 1935 is to prevent the production of feed grain from "getting out of hand," AAA Administrator Chester C. Davis today pleaded with producers to vote in Saturday's national referendum.

Corn-hog producers will vote Saturday on the question whether there will be a production control program for next year. Davis spoke today over the farm and home hour of the National Broadcasting system.

While at "urban critics of the AAA," who, he said, assume that the voting will not be a real referendum and that the issue is "cut and dried," Davis asserted:

"The agriculture adjustment administration does not intend to offer another corn-hog contract unless enough farmers show they want it to make a program workable. You may depend on that."

Davis urged a heavy vote to "insure that the outcome is really representative of the wishes of the corn and hog producers."

"An economic democracy, like a political democracy, can be made to work only when the will of the people is really carried out," he said.

Morgan county farmers will participate in the corn-hog referendum Saturday. A ballot box has already been set up at the Farm Bureau and all farmers are eligible to vote from now until Saturday night at 10 o'clock when the polls will close.

On Saturday polling places will be established in each of the 18 rural precincts in the county, and farmers may cast their ballots for or against a corn-hog program for 1935. Any farmer is eligible to vote, whether or not he has previously signed a corn-hog contract.

Guy Suel of the faculty of the Blind will be the accompanist.

This year the concert will be of an unusually high standard. The exact date to be announced later.

Mrs. John Burch of Griggsville was in the city yesterday as a business caller.

Local Attorney at National Tax Meet

W. N. Hairgrove Tells High Lights of Session Held in Oklahoma

Attorney W. N. Hairgrove has returned from the National Conference on Taxation, which was held in Oklahoma City. The high light of the meeting, he said, was an address by Senator Gore of Oklahoma, in which he pleaded for balanced budgets and the cessation of radical spending of public money.

Forty states were represented in the conference, and delegates were also present from Mexico, Hawaii and Canada. Numerous special interests now being heavily taxed were represented.

It was brought out that some thirty states now have sales taxes in various forms. The tax commissioner from Texas told the conference that such taxes were "the poor man's burden and property's relief." It was agreed generally among the delegates that the sales tax is not fair, but that it is a quick way of getting money and serviceable as an emergency measure.

The matter of balanced budgets was considered and it was agreed that Senator Gore sounded the keynote in his plea that efforts be made to balance public budgets without delay.

Mr. Hairgrove was appointed a delegate from Illinois by Governor Horner.

Movie Stars May Quit California Because Of Tax

Motion Picture Chieftains Profess To Foresee Possible Exodus

Hollywood, Oct. 23.—(P)—Two motion picture chieftains professed tonight to foresee a possible exodus of highly paid movie stars from California because of the income tax.

The players themselves were silent. The fears of the magnates, Joseph M. Schenck, president, and Darryl Zanuck, vice-president of 20th Century-Fox, were expressed in comment on the statement of William Randolph

Hearst that he would close his "place" in California and reside most of the time in New York because of the new California income tax law.

Louis B. Mayer, president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, made similar prediction in commenting last night on Hearst's statement.

Zanuck accused the state income tax of having driven George Arliss, English actor, away from the American film industry, and into the arms of the British companies.

"20th Century-Fox already has suffered the loss of George Arliss," the executive said, "and in losing him, due to excessive taxation, American prestige has been dealt a blow, and California has lost the salary and expenditures of this great star."

"This is only the beginning of the exodus caused by tax gouging. One by one, the stars are going elsewhere, where penalties on their success are not so great."

Schenck's statement, made in New York, was:

"I would like to move out myself, but I can't go, because my work is there. It wouldn't surprise me in the least if some of the better known stars decide to leave the state."

Mayer said he believes it "inevitable that others will follow Mr. Hearst's action."

The California tax, to be effective on 1935 salaries, calls for a levy ranging from 1 to 15 per cent of net income.

Woman Confesses She Drowned Her Small Daughter

Former Inmate Of Insane Hospital Says Girl "Is Now Safe"

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Oct. 23.—(P)—A 43-year-old woman sat in a jail cell here tonight and solemnly maintained that the ten-year-old daughter she confessed drowning "now is safe."

"Because I could not bear to think of Joyce trying to live in such a difficult world, I took her out of life as easily as I could," Mrs. Francis Newman declared without emotion. "Now she is safe."

The woman confessed, Chief of Police R. S. Payne said, that she held her daughter Joyce under water in a bathtub until she drowned. The child was found on a bed in her home last night. The mother was missing. She was taken into custody today as she sat on the shore of nearby Nepoc Lake.

She admitted that she drowned the girl, Payne said, holding her under water in the bathtub for several minutes until she was dead. Then she carried the body into a bedroom, where her husband Eric J. Newman found it upon his return from a hunting trip.

Payne said that no charge had been preferred against the woman, but that she probably would be arraigned on a first degree murder warrant tomorrow.

Mrs. Newman twice was confined to the State Hospital at Winnebago. She was released last November, 1933.

Mrs. Sarah A. Brown Dies From Injuries

Aged Jerseyville Woman is Hurt in Fall; Expires in Alton Hospital

Jerseyville, Mrs. Sarah A. Brown died at St. Anthony's hospital in Alton Tuesday morning, October 22nd. At the time of her death, she was 86 years and 24 days of age.

Some time ago, Mrs. Brown fell while walking about the yard at the home of her nephew, Burt Hunter, northeast of Jerseyville. She sustained a fracture of one of her hips and was removed to the Alton hospital for treatment, where her death occurred.

The deceased was the daughter of John W. and Jane Robb Hunter and was born in County Antrim, Ireland, Sept. 28, 1849. She came to this country with her parents in 1855 when a girl of six, the family settling in Jersey county.

Her husband preceded her in death a number of years ago. She is survived by two brothers, William Hunter of Loretta, Neb., and Charles Hunter of Jerseyville.

Definite funeral services have not been completed, but tentative plans call for the same this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Gubser Funeral home in this city.

Oaklawn Notes IV.

One of the first principles of public health is the prevention of the spread of infectious disease. The statement that every case comes from another case holds true in the main for tuberculosis as for other infections. Consequently as a matter of public health policy it is important to treat every known case. The open case, that is one expectorating tubercle bacilli through the sputum, is the chief source of danger. This danger lies in fresh infection of children, of re-infection of those who have a healed over process which might be broken down.

Some sanatoriums have taken the position that they will admit only early cases leaving the others to be cared for in homes under nursing supervision. This is at the time a short sighted policy as indicated above. To be sure such a policy helps the recovery statistics, shows less number of hospital days per patient and makes the institutional death rate lower. But there would be infection and re-infection spreading the disease from these others. A consistent tuberculosis program must therefore include facilities for the care of all types. Even the more advanced cases do better and many become inactive with care at Oaklawn. Furthermore, during their period of treatment they are not spreading the disease generally.

Mr. Fred Kilham of Markham was shopping in the city yesterday.

Six Persons Hurt In Auto Accident Near Indiana Line

White Hall Residents Get Medical Treatment and All Return Home

White Hall—Mr. and Mrs. William Baty and daughter, Alvera, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Baty, and their cousin, Dale Baty, are all recovering from injuries which they sustained in an auto accident near the Indiana line at Chrisman, Sunday evening.

They were returning home from Indianapolis, Indiana, where they had gone to bring Mrs. William Baty home from a two months' sojourn in Indianapolis. They went Friday and spent the time visiting with relatives and friends. Returning home Mrs. William Baty was driving and near Chrisman she attempted to pass a car in a long line of cars and as she did so the car in front of her also started to pass those in front and crowded her off the pavement.

Their car turned over twice, breaking out the glass on the sides of the car but it was not otherwise damaged. A luggage carrier prevented them from opening the door and they were forced to crawl out through the broken glass window. William Baty is most seriously injured. The muscles are torn loose on his neck, shoulder and side and he is badly bruised about his body and head. Alvera has a bad bruise on her head and shoulder. Others in the party suffered from shock and bruises and Marion Baty has a sprained wrist. Dale Baty had his head and hip bruised but was able to go to his work on Monday.

After receiving first aid treatment from a physician at Chrisman, they drove on to White Hall Sunday night and did not call a physician here for any of the party until Tuesday night.

Abraham Shushan Is Acquitted In Tax Evasion Case

Hugh M. Wilkinson, chief of defense counsel, issued the following statement immediately after the acquittal:

"We think the verdict of the jury vindicated the general feeling in New Orleans that these income tax prosecutions have been nothing more or less than political persecution and the verdict of this jury, we hope, will bring to an end the unrest that has been caused by these investigations in Louisiana."

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JEAN HARKIN, secretary to DONALD MONAGHAN, a lawyer, decided after the manner of HARRY WALLACE, automobile salesman, who had been a heavy loser.
At the Golden Feather night, "The Golden Feather" night, she introduced Bobby to the main thing. Bobby was saying, "I'm to run down this gang and get them all locked up. First of all, can you remember where that apartment was that they took you to?"
Bobby wrinkled his brows, then shook his head slowly.
"Not exactly," he said. "I remember it was out on the west side in an apartment hotel, but I didn't pay much attention to where we were going. It was off West Park boulevard somewhere, I remember."

WHEN Larry Glenn arrived at the sales rooms of the State Auto Sales, Inc., he found that Bobby Wallace was out with a prospect, and he had to wait for more than an hour before the young man returned. When Bobby finally did come in, he came over to Larry with a smile and an outstretched hand.
Larry shook his hand and said quietly, "Bobby, I've got to have a little talk with you. Can you come outside for a while and perch in my car with me?"
"Why, sure. What's up?"
"Well, you know we got outside."

They walked to where Larry's car was parked and got into the front seat.
"Bobby," said Larry at last, "I think you've just done the most foolish thing of your whole life, and I want you to tell me everything you can remember about it."

Bobby looked at him in utter wonder.
"Tell me," said Larry, "all about those bonds you sold to Don Monaghan."

"Those bonds—" began Bobby. "He turned toward the detective. 'Why, what's wrong with them?'"

Larry smiled a very smile.
"Nothing," he said, "except that they were stolen from the National Bank of Neola, a month and a half ago, by the Red Jackson gang. That's all."

Bobby gaped, his mouth open, his vocal chords seemingly unable to function. At last he managed to gulp. "Stolen?"

"Yes. Those were what we call hot bonds, Bobby. We've been looking for them for weeks in the hope that their appearance would lead us to the gangsters. And when we do find them—we discover that you yourself sold them!"

It took Bobby another minute to collect his faculties sufficiently to tell his story, but at last he managed to do it. In his telling, uncertain sentences he told the whole story, aided by Larry's quiet but insistent questions.

When the boy finished he sat in the corner of the seat and listened to Larry's brief, succinct explanation of the true circumstances of the deal. At last he shook his head in bitter self-condemnation.

"Did you ever see a bigger fool than me?" he asked miserably.
Larry smiled at him.
"You have been pretty much of a fool, Bobby," he said. "I think we can arrange things so that the consequences won't be too serious for you."

Bobby's face suddenly became white. It had not occurred to him before that by dealing in stolen bonds he had made himself criminally liable.

"—the main thing," Larry was saying, "is to run down this gang and get them all locked up. First of all, can you remember where that apartment was that they took you to?"

Bobby wrinkled his brows, then shook his head slowly.

"Not exactly," he said. "I remember it was out on the west side in an apartment hotel, but I didn't pay much attention to where we were going. It was off West Park boulevard somewhere, I remember."

"You didn't notice the name of the building?"

The boy shook his head unhappily. "No. Gosh, I'm sorry."

"Think you'd know it again if you saw it?"

Bobby thought this over. "I might. Yes, I think I would."

"Well, there aren't so many apartment hotels out that way but what we ought to be able to find it. . . . Now, about another thing, Bobby. You say this Lewis wanted $10,000 to buy a car. I didn't know your firm had any cars that cost that much."

"We don't," said Bobby. "Sixty four hundred is tops with our line. He said it was a special custom job."

Larry was silent for a moment. Then he said:

"Bobby, you'll help me all you can, won't you?"

"Lord, yes," said Bobby fervently.

"Well—did you ever hear of armored cars? I don't mean like the express trucks; I mean cars that carry money, mail, out of bullet-proof steel, with bullet-proof glass in the windows, and so on."

BOBBY nodded. He looked up suddenly and asked, "You think this—"

"It might be," said Larry slowly. "Listen, Bobby, we've never yet been able to find out where these cars are made. Somebody must have a pretty elaborate sort of factory somewhere, to turn them out; but wherever it is, it's pretty well concealed. All we can learn is that the most successful gangsters do manage to get them. Now there's just a chance that this $10,000 purchase of Lewis was one of these cars. If so, he's paid out of his words sink in. If so, that means that State Auto Sales, Inc., is a secret distributing point for them."

Bobby gasped, and once more murmured "Good Lord!" weakly. "Did you ever see that car?" asked Larry.

"Not close up," said Bobby. "I remember the morning Lewis came for it. Mr. Hopkins himself took him back into the shop, and I saw Lewis was driving away in it. It was just a big sedan; looked like any other good car as far as I could see."

Larry nodded. "They do," he said. "You could ever ride in one without knowing what it was, unless you knew what to look for. The window glass is

War Problem Confronts United States Declares Leland Stowe in Lecture

While the average American citizen centers his Italy-Ethiopian war interest on the probable ability of the bushwhacking blackman to dodge the rain of aerial attacks and the ominous tread of steadily advancing tanks, a far greater problem, significant of a coming European and possible world conflict is asserting itself, according to Leland Stowe, European correspondent for the New York Herald-Tribune, who opened the MacMurray College lecture series last night with an explanation of the present crisis.

Stowe's presentation was proof in itself of the nine important years of journalistic work which he has experienced abroad. Two highlights of his career followed one upon the other in the book which he authored, "Nazi Germany Means War," after his 1923 assignment in that country to cover the Reichstag fire trial and write a series of articles on Germany's foreign policy. In an interview, previous to his lecture, Mr. Stowe confessed that this work was perhaps the most difficult of his whole career in response to the question, "What was your toughest assignment?" Upon release of his book, he was barred from entrance into Germany.

One of the most significant quotations from last night's address came during the consideration of the part which this country might play if a world conflict was precipitated. Mr. Stowe, speaking of a war which might concern us, said: "If we refuse to make any money out of that particular bit of murder, then we can keep out of war. If we accept war as profit—then we will pay their price. It was not so much the impending portrayal of the immediate Italy-Ethiopian skirmish that was of such vital interest to the audience, but the stern reality of the consequences which might be a result of American participation. The emphasis in every

FARMERS VOTE ON CORN-HOG CONTROL OCT. 26

All Producers Have Stake In Question Says President

Every eligible corn and hog producer in Morgan County, whether he is a contract signer or not, is entitled to vote in the national corn-hog referendum on Saturday, October 26, according to Wallace T. Hemmrich, president of the Morgan County Corn-Hog Production Control Association.

All farmers have a stake in the question: Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires on November 30, 1935? Therefore it is important to get the judgment of every eligible producer on the matter, he pointed out.

All operators and owners, or their official representatives, of farms which produced corn or hogs in 1935 may vote whether they signed corn-hog contracts in past years or not. Community committees will determine the eligibility of voters, the president said. Each eligible person is entitled only to one vote regardless of the number of farms he may own or operate, no matter where located.

Polling places have been set up in all communities so that corn-hog producers of the country may cast their ballots in the national corn-hog referendum on Saturday, October 26.

A schedule of the polling places which will be open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. together with the corn-hog committee men who will be in charge is as follows:

Prentice, Berea Church—J. A. Timian. Concord, Nickel's Garage—Erwin A. Schenk. Linnville, Christian Church—Leslie Lewis. Waverly, Thomas Implement Store—Harvey Conlee. Meredosia, Town Hall—L. E. Hinners. Sinclair, Hebron Church—A. Paul Johnson. Litterberry, Dunlap Home—G. A. Dunlap. Jacksonville, Farm Bureau—Roy Newberry. Nortonville, Robinson Store—Herbert Barker. Pisgah, Pisgah Farmers Grain Co.—Donald Ramsdell. Franklin, High School—Mervyn Hart. Chapin, Chapin High School—James Anderson. Alexander, Church of Visitation—Clarke Stevenson. Woodson, LaCrosse Lumber Co.—Maurice Walsh. Arcadia, Arcadia School—W. W. Henderson. Markham, Liberty School—Rudy York. Murrayville, Town Hall—Ralph Heaton.

County results of the referendum will be wired to state headquarters at the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois by Monday noon, and the state results, in turn, will be sent to Washington by Tuesday.

Officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration point out that unless a sufficient number of farmers vote favorably, there will be no program. The administration must be assured that a sufficient number of farmers will participate to make a program operative and successful.

Facts upon which farmers can base their judgment have been presented at a series of community meetings. Evidence was presented to show that livestock numbers are far out of line with feed supplies as a result of the drought. With plentiful supplies of cheap feed in prospect and with rapid rebuilding of swine numbers, possible farmers and consumers face the prospect that the next three years may bring the greatest increase in hog production that the country has ever seen in a similar period and consequent low hog prices.

During the past 45 years there have been no such violent up and down cycles, which have undermined the swine industry, brought violent upswings and downswings in pork prices, destroyed farm buying power and wiped out markets for industrial products.

The speaker answered the unspoken question in the minds of many of his listeners, "Can the League stop the war?" There are three ways which this body might realize such an accomplishment, he revealed. The first is the imposition of sanctions which cannot be universally enforced and therefore does not present a workable plan. The second would be to close the Suez canal. "This would bring instant declaration of war on the part of Italy. Lastly, Mussolini might be induced to stop the war himself. He would like to do it now if he could emerge with the evidences of victory, otherwise there is no hope in this direction."

No Fleet Comparison

In 1918, the Italian fleet could boast not even a serious comparison to the English naval forces. Today as Mussolini has applied his "We have an even chance of winning the English navy from the Mediterranean." It is no longer a dispute between two unequal forces. It is now a conflict between an empire, "sated, bay-windowed and powerful" and a "scrawny empty-stomached" but fighting nation which has armed herself in the face of difficulties to carry out this challenge to British superiority.

Ethiopia of course is the bone over which these two are picking right to the main bout; and when the first skirmish has ended, the "bone" will get what it has always got in the past—nothing.

Mr. Stowe was very definite in disclosing that for three days last week, Europe, not just Italy and one or two affected nations, but Europe as a whole, was in a state of conflict as close to a great conflict as it was possible to be without the actual struggle being unleashed. He quoted from a journalist friend in Rome, a conservative, who stated that war, now perhaps, but not longer that two or three years, was a certainty in Europe.

The speaker answered the unspoken question in the minds of many of his listeners, "Can the League stop the war?" There are three ways which this body might realize such an accomplishment, he revealed. The first is the imposition of sanctions which cannot be universally enforced and therefore does not present a workable plan. The second would be to close the Suez canal. "This would bring instant declaration of war on the part of Italy. Lastly, Mussolini might be induced to stop the war himself. He would like to do it now if he could emerge with the evidences of victory, otherwise there is no hope in this direction."

War Profits

If we then face the extreme probability of a conflict in Europe, the next question, Stowe continued, is "What are we going to do about it?" The answer presents a great temptation to the American people. We are trying, desperately, to emerge from "depression." War profits would set us on our feet. Once more factories would operate, our standard of living would once more run up the flag, now at half-mast. We could invest in the war. In the last war, American industry and business realized a profit of three billions yearly which maintained a record prosperity. The same war now adds its cost to us to date as $5 billion, a debt which we can never repay, and the lives of American boys which can never be justified, even as having "made the world safe for democracy."

The safety of democracy was an illusion. The cost of the war was merely the price for war profits. We are on the threshold of another decision. The crisis is expressed in these words, "Can we afford to give up a possible half billion in war profits for peace?" The answer is in itself. The speaker's conclusion was a plea that America accept this challenge, this challenge of peace. "I believe we would be making the greatest contribution to the security of the world if we made such a move for peace. No other nation can so nearly afford to do it." Our move for the world's peace is one of the big problems of today.

No group is more capable of carrying out such a program than the youth of America, and it is to them that the responsibility and success of peace must be entrusted.

W. N. HAIRGROVE GIVES TALK ON TAXES AT MEET

Taxing System Should Be Remedied Lions Are Told

W. N. Hairgrove, local attorney, addressed the Lions Club last night on current problems of taxation, and the significance of the National Conference on Taxation, recently adjourned in Oklahoma City which he attended as an appointed delegate from Illinois. The present interest in these problems characterizes the change in forms of tax laws now taking place.

The speaker pointed out that in 1870 the only basis of tax rested on property. At that time large owners of wealth were unable to concentrate their holdings in intangibles and tax-exempt securities. The steady trend to availability of the latter forms of property has brought about many of the ills in the present state system.

When a state sales tax was proposed, it was soon declared unconstitutional and underwent a nonchalant change to "retailer's occupation tax expense." This is, in reality, a license issued to the retailer to collect a consumer tax on his own initiative.

Hairgrove maintained that the "sales tax" was an unjust form of revenue. In this state approximately 85 per cent is paid by those who can least afford to do so. The greatest taxable wealth of Illinois lies not in the small incomes of the majority of the citizens, but in the intangible property of the few who should bear the greatest portion of the burden.

Much of the money expended by the state is wasted on a bureaucratic administration. It was pointed out that there were 17,136 taxing units in Illinois, more than any other state, which might be centralized and coordinated into a more economical and effective system.

"If any change is to be brought about in these evils," Hairgrove concluded, "the people must be responsible for it. 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and will always be.' Our taxing system can be remedied to relieve the burden now carried by the poor who can least afford to support it."

In the business session preceding the address the Lions voted to make December 4, Ladies Night, at which time the club will entertain wives and guests of the members.
